Suddenly the ship began to plummet. The crew fought to keep the ship under control…..(What happened? why was the ship out of control? Who was on board? What was the crew doing? What were they thinking/feeling?)

The ship was under fire….
(What/who was attacking the ship? Is the ship damaged? Do the crew fire back? What are they thinking/ feeling?)

"Whoosh!!" Somewhere in deepest, darkest space travelled a team of explorers on board…
(Were they in a spaceship or a time machine?)

The crew were on a special mission….
(What was the mission? Who were the crew? What were their names? What did each person have to do on board?)

Fortunately, the crew landed safely and went to explore this strange planet. (What did they see? Who did they meet? What happened to them? Were the people/ creatures friendly? Describe how they felt?)

The ship/ time machine crashed to the surface of a strange planet…. (What was damaged? Could the crew fix it? How did they feel? What could they see on their view screen? Did they go outside? What happened? Did they meet anyone/anything?)

The ship landed safely. However, it was not long before the crew faced another problem. Out of the view screen…. (What was this other problem? What could be seen out of the view screen? Where were they? What are they going to do? What were they thinking/ feeling?)

Luckily the crew found what they needed….. (Where had they found it? Did they have trouble finding it? What will they do now? Where will they go now? Had they made any friends? Do they leave the planet?)
