

The Boss Dog of Blossom Street

1. How was Snap able to return to Blossom Street?

2. On what page did Snap first think about getting on a bus? Find the evidence in the text and write it down.

3. On page 19. What did the bus driver think about Snap? Find the evidence in the text and write it down.

4. How did the Kelly, Kelly's mum and the children on Blossom Street react when they saw Snap again? Find the evidence in the text and write it down.

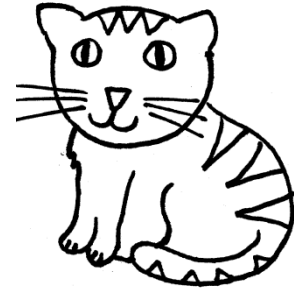

Kelly _____

Kelly's mum _____

The children _____

5. Look at the last page, about the author. What three things that happen in the story are based on things that actually happened when the author was a child?

The Boss Dog of Blossom Street

1. How was Snap able to return to Blossom Street?

He stood at the bus stop near a man and a woman. When the big orange bus came he jumped on behind them.

2. On what page did Snap first think about getting on a bus? Find the evidence in the text and write it down.

Page 10. Snap watched the bus and it gave him an idea.

3. On page 19. What did the bus driver think about Snap? Find the evidence in the text and write it down.

“Whose dog is that?” he shouted. “Has anybody paid for him?”

4. How did the Kelly, Kelly’s mum and the children on Blossom Street react when they saw Snap again? Find the evidence in the text and write it down.

Kelly laughed so much that her mum looked to see what was happening Kelly’s mum. “Snap!” she cried in surprise. “What are you doing here?”

The children yelled, “Snap! Snap! We thought you’d gone forever.”

They patted him and hugged him.

5. Look at the last page, about the author. What three things that happen in the story are based on things that actually happened when the author was a child?

Snap was a real dog that lived in her street.

He was the boss dog of the street.

He really did come back on the bus to keep an eye on things.