

Cut out these bullet points and arrange them into a column of arguments for zoos and a column of arguments against zoos

Zoos breed animals, which may become extinct, in captivity some almost extinct animals have been bred in zoos and then let free into the wild zoos now exhibit animals in enclosures which look like their natural habitat, rather than in cages zoos can't teach respect for the environment because they don't treat animals with respect the treatment of all our animals and their rights is important zoos educate the public about how we have to get on with animals

Zoos are a form of family entertainment

It is now harder to touch and see animals

Some zoos now try to make their visitors work to make the world better for animals zoos provide a safe home and regular meals for the animals creatures in zoos are caged and unable to grow properly seeing animals in zoos will make people think that it is right to keep wild animals in captivity

Cut out these bullet points and arrange them into a column of arguments for zoos and a column of arguments against zoos

Zoos breed endangered animals in captivity some animals have been reintroduced into the wild (Is the conservation successful?) zoos now exhibit animals in enclosures simulating their natural habitat rather than in cages zoos can't teach respect for the environment because they don't treat animals humanely

the treatment of all our animals and their rights is important zoos educate the public about the principles of ecology.

Zoos are a form of family entertainment

It is now harder to still have first-hand contact with nature

Some zoos now try to inspire their visitors to become active advocates for environmental protection

zoos provide a safe home and regular meals for the animals

creatures in zoos are caged and unable to thrive

seeing animals in zoos will make people think that it is right to

keep wild animals in captivity